

SPEAKERS & SEMINAR OPTIONS

MORNING SEMINAR SPEAKERS	SEMINARS	DESCRIPTION
Roy Crowne Roy is passionate about investing in the next generation of entrepreneurs who are energising local churches and communities with God-given enthusiasm, innovative original ideas, and a clear focus on the gospel. Prior to launching “Gospel Entrepreneurs” in 2021, Roy studied theology, worked for Youth for Christ for 28 years, followed by 13 years as National Director of HOPE, which brought churches together for mission. “Gospel Entrepreneurs” is a rapidly growing initiative developing people who are inspired, energised and equipped to take a strong Christian lead in church, ministry and business. He has written several articles, books, &amp; published the million-selling book The Servant Queen as a giveaway by churches to celebrate the late Queen’s 90th birthday.	Realising your entrepreneurial gift in loving your neighbour 	How can entrepreneurial gifts be used as a calling to love your neighbour. Roy will explore how churches across the country have seen real transformation take place in their streets, villages, and towns through the simple yet powerful act of loving their neighbour. Every church, regardless of size or location, has the capacity to become a catalyst for change. Intentional love, creativity, and obedience can bring lasting transformation in Jesus’ name. He will highlight practical examples from a variety of spaces and places, drawing on entrepreneurial gifts to identify needs, mobilize people, and position the local church at the very heart of its community.
Andy Twilley With high levels of energy and drive, his role with SEBA brings together 3 of his passions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Supporting &amp; encouraging ministers</li> <li>• Helping churches discern &amp; achieve their God given potential</li> <li>• Exploring new &amp; innovative ways to demonstrate and declare the good news of the Kingdom and develop effective strategies for reaching out.</li> </ul> He is married to Louise, has 3 sons, 3 step sons and 5 grandchildren. He enjoys walking, upcycling things for the garden with wood, and time away in his campervan.	Faith Talk 	How can we talk naturally about our faith? How can we bring faith easily into conversations? What should we say? This topic may sound scary yet in this seminar we will explore how it need not be so, and that in different ways we can share the good news of God’s love.

Charlotte Nall Charlotte is Mission Strategist at CV, a global Christian charity focused on evangelism &amp; equipping individuals and the Church to share faith in relevant and effective ways. Charlotte works at the intersection of mission, innovation, &amp; strategy, helping shape partnerships, influence stakeholders, &amp; develop creative approaches that enable people to explore life's big questions and encounter faith beyond traditional spaces. Alongside her work at CV, she also leads a charity supporting bereaved parents, bringing hope, clarity, &amp; compassion to those navigating profound loss.	The Great Commission in the digital age 	This seminar will help to equip believers to begin using social media to share the gospel effectively. This practical introduction will explore simple strategies, platforms, and tools to help you communicate faith online with confidence, engage new audiences, and extend Christ's message beyond traditional boundaries.
Suzanne Hammond From a childhood spent in the Amazon rainforest with her parents who worked for Wycliffe Bible Translators –Suzanne has always been surrounded with those involved in mission work and grew a particular passion for children's ministry. Her working life has included working for Spring Harvest, the Keswick Convention and Pilgrim Hall Christian Hotel &amp; Conference Centre. She is married to Brendan, who shares a love of children &amp; youth which resulted in running youth groups, Sunday Club, Crusaders, Farm Camps &amp; latterly Open the Book. With three adult children and nine grandchildren – our greatest joy has been to see them thrive in their own faith and 'passing the baton' to their children. She is a deacon at New Life Church Blackboys – serving a small, rural community – showing Jesus' love.	Open the Book 	Open the Book is an exciting storytelling model where Bible stories are shared with children in a way that is fun, interactive and memorable. Storytelling teams use the Open the Book programme to prepare and present a 10–15-minute scripted Bible story to a school assembly or class, involving the children in a very effective and engaging way.

AFTERNOON SEMINAR SPEAKERS	SEMINAR	DESCRIPTION
Joth Hunt  Joth trained at LBC, worked for a number of years with Viz-A-Viz before being called to pastor a small church in Harlow.  During his subsequent ministry at Eastleigh Baptist he initiated a discipleship mentoring scheme called the Barnabas Network, &amp; was very involved in the church community centre and café. He was called into Regional Ministry in Southern Counties Baptist Association in 2016 / 17 then moved to be Team Leader of SEBA in 2022. He is married to Sue, has a son, supports Liverpool FC, enjoys watching football, meeting with friends, running &amp; walking by the sea &amp; enjoys quality Coffee!	Leading in Mission 	What is missional leadership? What might good missional leadership look like? How might we effectively lead a church through transformation from being maintenance focused to becoming missionally effective? What challenges might we encounter? This seminar is for anyone who has a leadership responsibility for mission within their church.
Steve Rouse  Thought leader, church leader – Steve’s got it all. Not only is he the much-loved Director of the LICC Church Team, he’s also a teaching pastor at Balham Baptist Church in South London, with a career in the building trade before that. He speaks, consults and writes on behalf of LICC, and oversees strategic projects to fuel whole-life disciple making across the UK. Outside the office, he likes to stay fit and ride his motorbike.	What is the Church of the Mission? 	There is a generation looking for a compelling community to be a part of &amp; a convincing purpose to live for. How do we help our churches get ready for the mission that God has for us in the every day places &amp; spaces we find ourselves in this moment? How do we develop a culture within our churches that forms confident disciples who go out into their every day lives knowing that who they are, where they are and what they do matters to God?

Nicola Temple Nicola has over 20 years' experience supporting leadership development and church community development with Tearfund. She was part of Tearfund's Global Senior Leadership Team and Senior Management Teams for the International Development, Innovations and 'Advocacy &amp; Influencing' Directorates for 12 years. She led Tearfund's UK poverty work and global leadership development work for a number of years. She is passionate about empowering individuals, churches and communities to thrive and flourish.	Church Community Transformation 	The Church is called to bring light into the darkest of situations, walking with people in the community, welcoming people into a new life with Jesus, and seeing your church and local community thrive and flourish. The Church &amp; Community Transformation process takes churches on a journey to discover what this call means for you. This session helps you begin to look at ways in which those ideas and principles might enable your church to be salt and light in your community.
Matt Levett Matt is passionate about youth ministry &amp; fervently believes the local Church really is the hope for the world. He loves teaching theology to the 'non-religious' &amp; has 1001 stories of why he thinks that living for Jesus is a good thing. He believes church life and the Christian faith should be risk filled, grace filled, hope filled &amp; joy filled &amp; desperately wants churches to be places that the unchurched love to call home. He's led youth ministries in various churches helping to shape churches to think about the next generation. His latest challenge is becoming the Minister at Long Buckby Baptist. Matt is an avid admirer of all things comic book, loves films, good food, the sea, Cornwall &amp; open water ice swimming! He plays Risk, is interested in cryptozoology, &amp; actually attends the Eurovision song contest.	Raising Gen. Alpha in a Digital Eden 	It's a new world out there. A new playground. A new Eden? Join Matt to dive into the world of Generation Alpha by looking at the lessons we have, or haven't, learnt from their older brothers &amp; sisters – Gen Z. Gen A are the youngest &amp; largest generation on the planet and soon they will be running our Churches... that's if they stay long enough to care. Come &amp; discover insights into their world and gain some hints at curating faith in a filtered world. What does it really take to help our kids become Gen Alpha: Digital Disciples? To become the next wave of the Church, rather than a problem to be solved and a group to be quietened down.